An Act to amend seetion two of an aet approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-two) entitled "An Act relative to verdicts and judgments in aetions of ejectment and to regulate proceaure in sueh actions" as amended

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill, if you remember, one day last week was placed on the postponed calendar on my motion, as there was no one at that time to explain the purposes of the act. I have since seen the sponsor of the bill and he explained to me that it is for the purpose of filing judgment in ejectment suits where there has been no answer or any brief of title filed. I find there are several decisions in that line showing that there is no way by which the court can enter judgment, and therefore, as this act gives them that power, I am satisfied that it is a proper bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, I move further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. DEWEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to speak on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will withdraw his decision on the motion if the gentleman desires to speak on the question.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to object to the postponement of this particular bill, but I do oppose these postponements. You see what they are doing. The members of the House who do not stay here with us and see that their legislation is passed in proper order are having bills postponed and the result is, that you are getting a long "postponed calendar." We are within two weeks of adjournment. During the last days of this session no House bills will be passed, because we will devote all of our time to the passage of Senate bills. The result will be that the members who do not stay here and see that their bills are acted upon and have them postponed, will have the preference, during the next week in having their bills called up at any time. That is unfair to the men who stay here to see this postponed calendar pile up, which will possibly cause his legislation to be dropped from the calendar—The result of your staying here and working continuously, while the men who remain away and don't attend to their business have the preference. I think we ought to consider this seriously, at this time, and oppose postponing many more bills, because the men who have postponed bills on the calendar can call up their bills at any time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair entirely endorses the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Dunn). What the gentleman has said is entirely true and the Chair can see no reason why preference should be given to the man who stays away when his legislation is on the calendar, giving him preference over the member who is attending to his duty on the floor of this House.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to this (Mr. Wallace's) bill being postponed. I only want to call attention to the result.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is entirely correct in his statement.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to know if the bill of the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Wallace) has been postponed? Has the motion to postpone been passed?

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdrew his decision on the motion.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to state, in this connection, that I am not reflecting on the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Wallace) because he is generally always her, but there are other members who are not.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1919. No. 58.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, June 5, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. [illegible] H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou who didst look down from Thy Tree of Agony and say, "Son, behold Thy mother," we today would also take this thought to mind and offer for the mothers of this land and of this State our sincere petitions before Thee that thou wilt bless those who are the mighty bulwark of the home and of the State; they who from the inception of life are burden-bearers, and are those who taste sorrow and trial as none others do; at whose knees we found our first altar and learned to lisp our first words of praise unto Thee; who didst guide us in youth; yea, they who have the iron passed into their hearts, as none others, when, on the bloody battlefields, their own flesh and blood is offered up. For this great host of silent, self-sacrificing, willing mothers, we beseech Thee that Thou wilt pour down Thy blessing upon them, that they may be ever dear to us, and may be ever respected as they are entitled to be, and that their rights, which are the great rights of the people, may be constantly safeguarded by those who make the laws of the land. Amen.

RESOLUTION ENDORSING BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

The SPEAKER asked and received unanimous consent to offer the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, The Boy Scouts of America has been incorporated by Act of Congress to develop and promote, through organization and co-operation, the interests of American boyhood; to train boys in scout-craft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues; and

Whereas, There are now within the United States ten million boys of scout age, while only 384,000 boys are privileged to enjoy the benefits of membership in the Boy Scouts of America and it is the opinion of the National Council of Boy Scouts that the time has come to extend this movement and to give more boys of scout age the opportunities afforded by this organization; and

Whereas, The week of June 8th to 14th has been set aside by the leaders of this organization and by proclamation of the President of the United States as Boy Scout Week, during which a universal appeal will be made to all Americans to supply the means to put the Boy Scouts of America in a position to carry forward effectively and continuously, the splendid work it is doing for the youth of America; be it therefore,

Resolved, That we heartily endorse and commend the Boy Scout movement and call upon the good people of the State of Pennsylvania to give it their continued and sincere personal and financial support.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON FIRST READING.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I move you that all appropriation bills reported from committee, either as committed or as amended, shall be considered for the first time.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will take up the first reading bills after the second reading bills.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, don't you think that it is not advisable to go on with these second reading bills today? We have at the present time eighty-two bills, either on the postponed calendar or final passage and third reading bills. It will not delay these bills if we lay them over till the next week and the sponsors can be here. It will not delay them because it will take all of next week and part of the following one to pass these eighty-two bills, which have preference, and I suggest that we lay these second reading bills over until next week when the sponsors are here.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that there are very few second reading bills on the calendar to be considered, and there are only a few that could be amended.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, you are aware the House is very light this morning. I believe we should accede to the request of Mr. Dunn. I hate to raise the question of a quorum, but am perfectly willing to see the first reading bills go along. Your anticipation when the rules committee reported that we be here on Thursday morning has not been lived up to. If we go ahead and persist in this going on we will never get through. So I suggest that you go ahead with the first reading bills and then adjourn.

The SPEAKER. If the gentlemen objects we will take up first reading bills; but there are very few bills on the second reading calendar, and for that reason the Chair would ask to be indulged to that extent.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I object to the consideration of second reading bills at this time without the membership of the House being present.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, if there is any reason to pass these second reading bills to-day, that is, if it will delay the bills at all, I would not object to it; but there are forty-six bills on the second reading calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will take up the regular first reading bills, page 31 of to-day's calendar.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we realize that the world is restless, nervous and extravagant in its varied programs of reconstruction. Lawless agencies, selfish interests and narrow-minded promoters are seriously delaying our own nation's return to sound conditions of peace and prosperity. We pray that wide-visioned and responsible leadership may prevail in our own great nation, and that our people everywhere may enjoy better social, religious, business and living conditions than ever before. To this end help us all to do our part. We pray Thy special blessing upon Senator James M. Campbell that he may be speedily restored to his duties in this body. These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 556.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 556, entitled "An Act to amend section two article five chapter seven of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) entitled 'An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs' as amended."

Considering the amount of work that controllers in boroughs have to do and the responsibilities which they are called upon to assume, it is my opinion that the present salaries are ample, and for that reason, I cannot approve this measure.

For this reason, this bill is not approved.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 295.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 7, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 295, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-third day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventy (Pamphlet Laws two hundred twenty-six), entitled 'An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the coroner in the county of Erie'."

This Bill amends the Act of 1870, fixing the fees of the coroner of the County of Erie.

However meritorious it may be, it clearly offends against the Constitution in that it attempts to regulate the affairs of a county by a special Act. It has been held by the courts that an Act amending a local Act which regulates the affairs of a county is unconstitutional. When the system of fees in any county established by any special law becomes obsolete the proper remedy is to come under the general law.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. NASON. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

In the everyday hurly-burly existence of our lives we are oft-times forgetful of the many pleasantries that arise from time to time, in order that we may do deference to those whom we respect. The days of our years are three score and ten, according to Biblical tradition, and if perchance by the good will of the Almighty and our own good fortune, some one of us should have outlived those years which tradition says is the length of our existence, and if perchance by such good fortune one of those men should be a member of this Senate, a man who is known by every woman, man and child that resides in his district, it is only fitting that we assembled here should pay him that deference which I feel we owe him, particularly when he is a man who is known, not only in his own district, but throughout the State of Pennsylvania for his devotion to public duty, for his erudition and for many good traits that have made him the friend of all of us.

O God, at all times are we in need of Thy divine blessing and favor and no man, no matter how great or how lowly, can fully be blessed without Thy divine present; but tonight we come before Thee craving Thy special favor upon that city of our State that has been smitten so hard. The terrible pall that rests upon the city of Wilkes-Barre, with its many losses in the mines, is close to our hearts and for those stricken ones and their homes and all that it means to them, we come before Thee asking that Thou wouldst be especially nigh, for they are bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh; politically they are part of our Commonwealth. every man and woman who make this State what it is. We ask Thee that Thou wilt give to those that are called upon to suffer the strength to bear their burden, and since Thou hast said that pure religion undefiled before God is to visit the blessings to widows and orphans in their affliction, we pray Thee that many hands may be ready to serve and many hearts ready to express sympathy. We know not the cause of this. If it is carelessness, may it be a warning; if it comes from improper conditions, may they be corrected; but whatever the cause, we ask Thee that Thou wilt raise up many friends and helpers for the afflicted ones of that stricken city. Amen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This is House Bill No. 303, providing that persons, associations and corporations owning, occupying or controlling premises upon which any contractor or sub-contractor shall be permitted to do certain classes of construction work shall be liable for the wages of all employes engaged in such work, and for the cost of all materials supplied for such work, unless the contractor or sub-contractor shall file a bond for the immediate payment of wages and the cost of material when used, providing that a contractor shall be liable for the wages of employes of any sub-contractor and for the cost of materials furnished to any sub-contractor. This bill was very carefully considered by the Committee on Manufactures. A hearing was granted on this bill, which was attended by certain building trades organizations from various parts of the State. It was also attended by representatives of bonding companies and by numerous responsible large contracting concerns. It was also attended by representatives of Union Labor. The committee unanimously agreed that this bill should not be reported affirmatively. The committee unanimously agreed to this after its hearing, and after bill No. 303 was given more time and more careful consideration than any bill that was considered by the Committee on Manufactures. At first thought, it would appear as if this bill was one which was drawn in the interest of the bonding companies, for no man would be safe to attempt to repair a building or undertake a proposition to build any structure unless he was bonded in such a way as to absolutely protect every possibility of expense incurred by the contractors or sub-contractors, over which he had no control, for the hire of labor and for the purchase of material; and even the responsible bonding companies appeared before the committee and said that if this bill becomes a law it would injure even their business and it would injure it for the reason that the bonding liability on the part of the contractor would be so great as to discourage building operation to the point where even their business would be affected injuriously. The builders were a unit against this bill. For instance, one builder stated that on 1914 he had over six million dollars of contract work on his books at one time. He said that if this bill had been a law at this time it would have been impossible for him to have taken in excess of one million dollar's worth. It was the opinion of the committee that if this bill should become a law not only would builders be influenced adversely, not would only material men be influenced adversely, but labor itself would be influenced adversely, for the reason that it would so burden the building trade as to reduce the volume of business to such an extent that it would lessen employment in building operations. The committee is unanimously of the opinion that this bill should not be put upon the calendar, and for that reason reported it with a negative recommendation.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I introduced this bill at the request of the State Federation of Labor. As the gentleman from Lancaster (Mr. Hess) has stated, it provides for the protection of the wages of the wage-earner, and the protection of the material man. It provides that when a general contractor sub-lets a part of his contract to a sub-contractor he will see that bonds are properly taken out in order to take care of the wages and pay for the materials. Back years ago, in 1900, this system was in force in the coal fields. The miners were contractors, and they were paying their own men. Many and many a time the sub-contractor has failed, and he politely leaves town and the wage-earner is deprived of his wages, or the material man of his money. This bill is no more nor less than that. It is a protection that every honest man will stand for, to see that the wage-earner and the material man are properly paid.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will proceed.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) what position the wage-earner takes on the garnishee bill and the grocery-man

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, that will be readily seen when it comes on the floor of the House.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I think it has been seen time after time.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, the garnishee bill is not before the House. If there is a garnishee bill before the House, I will take a stand on it one way or the other.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1400, file folio 4551, on page 23 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. RAMSEY,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1400, entitled:

To enforce the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States by prohibiting the manufacture sale and transportation within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes defining the term "intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes" as used in this act regulating the manufacture sale and the licensing for sale of intoxicating liquors for medicinal sacramental chemical mechanical industrial manufacturing or scientific purposes and of the non-intoxicating liquors permitted to be manufactured sold transported imported and exported under the provisions of the act and providing penalties

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I feel that this occasion should not pass without the attention of the House being brought clearly to the provisions of this bill. Sometime ago we passed an amendment which provides that after one year from the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of intoxicating liquors into or from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof, for beverage purposes, is prohibited.

Mr. Speaker to my mind this bill in a certain extent, will nullify the provisions of this amendment which is now a part of the United States Constitution. The United States Constitution, in this Eighteenth Amendment, clearly says that intoxicating liquors used for a beverage purpose shall not be manufactured, sold, transported, imported or exported from the United States. Now the difficulty comes, what is an intoxicating liquor or beverage? The persons that are in favor of this bill will argue that liquor that contains two and three-fourths per cent alcohol by weight is not intoxicating. Good authority can be furnished that liquor which does contain two and three-fourth per cent. or less by weight of alcohol does intoxicate; and it seems to my mind that this bill is admission that liquor containing two and three-fourth per cent. will intoxicate. In section six of this act it provides

"Any person copartnership association or corporation licensed to manufacture or sell vinous spirituous or malt or brewed liquors under the liquor laws of this Commonwealth may import into and transport within the Commonwealth any intoxicating liquors and sell the same"

That, it seems to me, is clearly a direct violation of this Eighteenth Amendment that we have passed. Now, no doubt before very long the United States Congress will pass a law defining what intoxicating liquors are, and in that event any act that the State of Pennsylvania or any other State may pass specifying what intoxicating liquors are would be nullified. But the ruling of the Internal Revenue Department of the United States has been that liquor containing anything over one-half of one per cent. is intoxicating. If that is a fact, it seems to me very foolish upon our part to pass a bill like this. The purpose of the Eighteenth Amendment is to prohibit the use of intoxicating drinks and the result that come from over-indulgence in intoxicating drinks. Now, if we are going to permit this practice to continue it was absolutely useless to pass the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution. The title of this bill is misleading. It says that this is a bill "To enforce the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States by prohibiting the manufacture, sale," etc. To my mind, on the contrary, it is a bill to legalize the manufacture and sale, importation, etc., of liquor of an intoxicating nature for beverage purposes when that contains less than two and three-fourths per cent. of alcohol. I see no need of this legislation. It is not in keeping with the spirit of the times, and let us be abreast of the thought of the world; let us vote down this bill.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Union (Mr. Showalter) relative to the misleading character of the title of this bill, "to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States—," that is certainly correct, is certainly true, and is not at all misleading. The Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibits only the sale of intoxicating liquors. For this Legislature or the United States Congress to pass any act which would prohibit the sale of any liquor or anything for beverage purposes, whether intoxicating or not, would be contrary to the very amendment, and would be un-Constitutional. The only question before this House is not the question as to whether they are wet or dry. The question whether the Eighteenth Amendment or whether intoxicating liquors are prohibited is a thing of the past; but the real question before this House is the question as to what is intoxicating liquors. That you must determine, and you should determine without prejudice, and you should determine without regard to where you stand on intoxicating liquors as a matter of principle. If this Legislature were to pass any act which would legalize the sale of intoxicating liquors, that act would palpably be unconstitutional because the Eighteenth Amendment provides that the sale or importation of intoxicating liquors is prohibited. But the question recurs, is two and three-fourths per cent. alcohol intoxicating? Your duty, gentlemen, does not go to deciding the question "Yes" or "No" because you happen to be on one side or the other in the adoption of the amendment; but with fidelity and truth you should judge whether or not, as a matter of fact this or that is intoxicating liquor.

It is altogether a matter of observation and a matter of science, as to whether or not two and three-quarter per cent alcohol, or that which contains two and three-quarter per cent alcohol by weight, is intoxicating. The amendment gives us power, concurrently with the United States Congress to enforce or put in legislation to enforce this amendment, to enforce it as to the sale of intoxicating liquor. Now how are you going to arrive at a decision? As a matter of fact, two and three-quarter per cent, is it two and three-quarter per cent out of one hundred units which is intoxicating? The stomach holds four pints, and that which makes a man intoxicated is a condition which causes concentrated alcohol which would go into the human stomach. If alcohol becomes concentrated therin and gets into the blood stream and causes one and a half per cent to the one hundred units of alcohol to go into the blood stream so that your constitution could not oxide it, that minute the man becomes intoxicated. If you have the sworn statement of toxicologists, chemists, men who have made a study of this subject, and they aver, under their oaths, that two and three-quarter per cent alcohol or two and three-quarter per cent beer is not intoxicating, will you, whether right or wrong vote that it is intoxicating, Gentlemen, I simply appeal to your sense of justice. I could quote numerous authorities, I could quote any quantity of eminent scientists and observers who have declared under their oaths that this two and three-quarter per cent alcohol or beer is not intoxicating. Take a man of the standing of Prof. Hobart Amory Hare, of Jefferson College. These men say under oath that it is impossible, in view of the contents which the human stomach can hold, to concentrate alcohol sufficiently to put into the blood stream one and a half per cent alcohol, thus making it impossible for the human system to oxide that which is in the blood stream, or makes it impossible to make a man drunk. If that is true, then this two and three-quarter per cent alcohol is not intoxicating. Not only do we have Prof. Hare, but Prof. John Marshall, of Philadelphia, the eminent scientist, George Elliot Flint of New York, Walter H. Gahagan, an employer of labor, who has made observations on the question and who has seen men drink it frequently, and still not one case of intoxication has come within his notice—also William John Gies, Max Henius, chemists, Abraham A. Brill, George W. King, Charles A. Rosewater, and others, who have given their testimony without contradiction.

I would ask the gentleman from Union (Mr. Showalter) as to why he did not, in presenting this argument, if he desired to be fair, why he did not introduce for your benefit one expert who had come here to say that two and three-quarter per cent alcohol in beer was intoxicating? Why is it that he comes here and simply asks you to vote down the bill without an authority, without one bit of testimony to give to you, while I am here with the statements of numerous authorities and scientists who will swear that this amount of alcohol is not intoxicating? Simply as a matter of justice, simply as a matter of the enforcement of this amendment, I ask you to vote for this bill. I ask you to vote for two and three-quarter per cent alcohol, which is not intoxicating, because if you do not pass some legislation and you leave it to Congress, a court of equity will likely come into every jurisdiction and prohibit the sale of two and three-quarter per cent alcohol by an injunction, and the whole matter will be in confusion, when we are certain that that which we are asking for in an endeavor to enforce the provisions of the eighteenth amendment is not intoxicating and will enforce that amendment.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE BILL NO. 321, POSTPONED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the special order fixed for this hour be postponed until 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1474, file folio 4911, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. SIMPSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1474, entitled

An Act creating in counties having a population of from eight hundred thousand to one million five hundred thousand, a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners; fixing their salaries payable by the county; defining the powers and duties of such board and regulating the assessment of property and occupations for state and county purposes; authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors and clerks, defining their duties, and providing for their compensation payable by such counties; imposing a penalty on subordinate assessors for failure to comply with certain provisions of this act; and abolishing the office of ward, borough and township assessor in so far as respects the assessment of property and occupations for State and county purposes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House: This is House Bill No. 1474, relating to an increase in the county tax board membership from three to the number of seven, in which the salaries are not increased, but in which there will be an increase of twenty thousand dollars in the increased membership of the board. I took occasion to talk to the members of this House in reference to this bill a short time ago, at which time I related that there was no demand for a bill of this kind in Allegheny County, that it was nothing more than a multiplication of jobs, that there was no demand for it by the taxpayers of Allegheny County, and that the united press of the City of Pittsburgh had expressed itself in forcible terms. At that time I read to the members of the House various editorials from the leading newspapers of the City of Pittsburgh, and each and every newspaper protested against the passage of this bill. On the former occasion I called the attention of the members to the various bills that have been passed in this House relating to Allegheny County, and to the fact that whatever little home rule we have had has been taken from us by the members of this House; that the mercantile appraisers' bill, in which the county commissioners had the right to appoint one was taken from them and the right given to the Auditor General to appoint five; I also called the attention of the members to the bill which took away from the city council, representing the taxpayers, the right to increase and regulate the salaries of the magistrates, thereby destroying that portion of our home rule; and I proceeded to quote the various newspapers articles, and one of the Pittsburgh newspapers stated that the Governor should have some Pittsburgh collars. That bill was defeated on its passage through this House, and subsequently this bill has been reconsidered and placed back on the calendar.

In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Dunn) and the gentleman from Allegheny county (Mr. Simpson), as sponsor of this bill, he stated, in spite of the fact that the entire newspaper press of the city of Pittsburgh had protested against this bill, he judged the sentiment for it by the majority of the members of the Allegheny county delegation. With the deepest respect and the kindest consideration for the Allegheny County delegation, this is a multiplication of jobs; the whole United Press of the city of Pittsburgh protest against this measure because it is a multiplication of jobs. Since this bill has been placed on reconsideration for passage, the following editorial was printed in the Pittsburgh Press, under the title "Kill the Simpson Bill."

That the opponents of salary-grabbing legislation at Harrisburg cannot afford to relax their vigilance for a moment was proved again last evening by the action of the House in recalling the Simpson bill and restoring it to the calendar. This is a bill increasing the number and the pay of the members of the board of tax revision.

The proposed increase is wholly unnecessary, as far as the public interest is concerned. It is a bill to promote the welfare of the "organization" not of the public. Places have to be made for the machine's political workers. Some of them can be cared for on the tax board if the Simpson bill goes through, and the Legislature itself seems to have understood last week that this is the only purpose of the measure. At all events, when it came up last week in the House, it was defeated decisively. Last night, by an even larger majority than the one defeating it a week ago ,the adverse vote was reconsidered, and its friends now seem confident of "putting it over."

A strong rally by the anti-machine forces is the only thing that will protect the public interest—and the treasury. For it must be remembered that every such bill increases appreciably the treasury strain and drain. It is apparent that the total appropriations at this session are going to exceed the revenues by a very large amount unless all salary-grabbing bills are killed and the appropriations in general are pruned of their extravagances and conformed to the standard of the actual needs of honest administration.

Unless the Legislature makes it plain right now that such bills as the Simpson bill are taboo the final stages of the session will witness an orgy of appropriations making inevitably for a revenue deficit. Governor Sproul, who would be cast for the role of "goat" in that event and forced to do the pruning that the Legislature itself had refused to do, is not likely to relish such a prospect. A telling word from him now may save the State credit and relieve the Governor himself of no small embarrassment.

I ask the members of the Legislature to defeat this bill. As I said before, it is line upon line, here a little and there a little, and the only purpose is the multiplication of jobs. I ask the members of this House to give it their careful consideration and vote this bill down.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This bill has been hashed and re-hashed over now several times, and it was placed on the calendar last Monday evening for the purpose of bringing it up tonight for final passage, or defeat. I say that the bill is just an exact copy of the present act that is in force in Allegheny county, with the exception of increasing the number of members on the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in Allegheny to seven instead of three, as they are at present. I told the House last week why it was necessary to have this increased number of assessors. I now reiterate that it is absolutely necessary in order that the business of Allegheny county may be properly conducted. I say to you, truthfully, that this week the taxbooks were not placed in the hands of the county treasurer for the purpose of the collection of the taxes in Allegheny county, and under the law they should have been placed in his hands for collection on the first day of May. That makes one month that they are behind in their work, showing conclusively that it is absolutely necessary to give them some relief. Now, so far as the argument is concerned with reference to taking away what little home rule we have, I will say this:

The SPEAKER. The Chair must request better order in the rear of the hall. The sergeant-at-arms in the rear of the hall will maintain order.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, let me answer that by saying: That we are not transferring the seat of government from Allegheny county to Harrisburg in this particular bill, because the appointive power rests in the same place that it rested in the act of 1911—in the county commissioners elected in Allegheny county by the people of Allegheny county, and the only change there is is in making the number seven instead of four. Why don't they answer the argument, the all-important argument, that the members of that board are today over one month behind with their tax work, and with getting the books into the hands of the proper officers of the county for the purpose of collecting the taxes. That is the all-important matter to the people of Allegheny county, to know that their taxes are properly assessed and in order to properly assess those taxes it is absolutely necessary that you have a sufficient number of men qualified to make the assessment. Then, the next step is to see that this is done according to law, and under the law it is necessary for these books to be in the hands of the county treasurer on the first day of May. They were not in the hands of that department on the first day of May; they were not in the hands of the treasurer on the first day of June, showing conclusively that it is absolutely necessary to give these men some relief. It is absolutely necessary to the taxpayers of Allegheny county to put more men on that board in order that their assessment may be properly and efficiently made and made according to law. They have not answered that, and they do not make any pretense at answering the statement that the books have been held back from the proper sources for over a month. If they have a sufficient number of men there now, why were not the books in the hands of the proper officer at the proper time? This shows conclusively that it is absolutely necessary. I made the declaration that the board was to make an effort to have these assessments made and in order to make them they were compelled to hire four additional extraordinary assessors, and then with that were juggling the payroll in order to get a fund under which to pay them, and they were still unable to get the books out and get them into the hands of the proper officer. This story about increasing the payroll to the enormous amount of twenty thousand dollars, when you take into consideration that the board has to deal with the enormous taxable assessment that we have in Allegheny county, is ridiculous to talk about. It is ridiculous to talk about three men being able to do that work, and I ask you to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, two weeks ago this bill was defeated on third reading. One week ago a motion was taken up to reconsider the bill and it was placed on the calendar, but there was not a sufficient vote to pass it under the requirements of the constitution. Tonight the sponsor hopes to get the constitutional majority. The bill is wrongly entitled. It should read like this: "A bill creating four political jobs in the County of Allegheny and providing a method of filling the same. That no duty shall be at any time attached thereto, and that the persons holding these sinecures shall annually receive from the County of Allegheny the sum of $20,000." Mr. Speaker, there is absolutely no necessity for the creating of these offices. The present board has not asked that the number be increased; the county commissioners of Allegheny county have not asked that the board be increased; the Republican organization, or the Democratic organization of Allegheny county, or the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, or any other organization of Allegheny county has not asked for the same. Every Pittsburgh newspaper has opposed it, and every organization that has taken any action has been inclined the same way. There is no person, or there is no set of persons, interested in the passage of this bill except those who are interested in the making of the appointments, or who expect to be interested in the appointments which are made. I, therefore, ask you to defeat the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified, and was as follows:

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year the deficiency may be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied in the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws

If the laws of the society so provide the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if in an independent society and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be merged with the assets of other classes of the society

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as any society may provide by or pursuant to its laws nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner and as expressed in its constitution and laws

If the valuation of the certificates as hereinbefore provided shall show that the present value of future net contributions together with the admitted assets is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities such society shall have the power either to collect additional assessments or to increase the rates of contribution from the members to meet such deficiency and such society shall also have the power to classify its members according to the adequacy of the rates they are contributing and charge each class with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by a valuation

The Rev. T. T. Mutchler, of Philadelphia, Pa., General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we recognize Thee as the Giver of all that is good, and we want to return our thanks to Thee for the blessings we are enjoying. Now let Thy blessing rest upon this great Commonwealth, upon our Chief Executive and those associated with him. May they be guided in all the ways that will result in the best interests of this State. We ask Thy blessing upon the Senate, those associated in the active work, and especially upon this House. Guide every member of it in all that they do. May we be faithful in the discharge of duty and act wisely and well in the discharge of duties that are resting upon the hands of each one. And we ask Thy blessing, in comforting grace upon the homes where sorrow has entered and upon that city that has suffered the terrible disaster. May Thy comforting presence be with all the homes and hearts that are afflicted. And now we ask Thee to guide our great nation in its affairs, and in the affairs pertaining to the world. Grant, O Thou God of nations, that the wisest counsel shall prevail and the best result shall come to the world for the best interests of humanity everywhere; and when life's little journey with us all is ended here below, accept us with the redeemed in Thy home above, towards which we are all hastening, saved by grace from all sin, for Jesus' sake. BILL ON THIRD READING A SPECIAL ORDER.

The SPEAKER. This is the hour fixed by special order for the consideration on third reading and final passage of House Bill No. 1142, file folio 3685.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1142, entitled

An Act providing for the appointment of a prohibition commissioner and deputy commissioners fixing their salaries and providing for the payment of their expenses defining the powers and duties of the commissioner and his deputies relative to the administration and enforcement of the laws of the Commonwealth relating to the manufacture sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors and the liquor traffic including the power to subpoena witnesses providing penalties and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is not my desire at this time to take up much of the time of the House for any extended remarks. I realize that we all understand the contents of this bill. This bill has been on the calendar for many weeks; you have had an opportunity to examine it thoroughly. I am quite sure that you have made up your minds to a very large extent as to how you are going to vote on this measure. There are, however, just one or two things that I want to say at this time. I regard this bill as one of the most important measures that has come before this Legislature during this session. Some months ago we passed, in this House, a resolution to ratify the Eighteenth Amendment, but now comes the important part of that act—to enforce it. I want to say to the members of this House that you will be doing an injustice to yourselves and to the State of Pennsylvania unless we pass some enforcement act to carry out the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment. Someone has said that the proper thing to do it for us to wait until Washington acts through the national Congress. I can see no reason in the world why we as Pennsylvanians, as sons of this Commonwealth, should not make a provision to enforce this act in this State, with our splendid record for lawkeeping, and we should have some law on our books which will enforce this act. This bill provides for the machinery which shall enforce the act; providing for a commissioner and eight deputies whose duty it shall be to work in harmony, so that the laws they shall pass in this session of Congress may be enforced through the provision of this act. If we do not pass an act of this kind in this State, the federal courts will be crowded and our judges will have to take care of the business of Pennsylvania, and therefore it is up to us to pass a measure to enforce this law. Ex-president William Howard Taft has said, "It is now clearly our duty, even if we are opposed to this Eighteenth Amendment, as good citizens of this country, to pass laws to enforce it." We all know that Ex-president Taft was formerly bitterly opposed to prohibition he opposed the principles of prohibition consistently again and again, but after the bill was passed by Congress he said, "Now it is our duty as good citizens to stand by the act of Congress," and surely this House cannot be put on record as being against the enforcement of this law. I want to say, further, to the members of this House that we, as Republicans, are in the majority to-day in this State, and we will be held accountable for the act. Prohibition is here to stay; John Barleycorn has been licked; we know there is no possible chance of war-time prohibition being repealed. Its friends in Congress say they won't follow the Wilson suggestions; they will pass it against Wilson and he will have to do it himself if it is done. I want to say that the administration of Pennsylvania, the present Governor, who has stood so long for this cause, and the leaders of the Republican organization, cannot afford to ignore this issue as it is here to stay.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, like my colleague from Allegheny (Mr. Vickerman), I do not intend to take up much time of this House in discussing the provisions of this measure, because I believe that the members of this House are familiar enough with this subject to vote intelligently upon this particular bill. I agree with the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Vickerman) when he says that this House should pass some enforcement legislation, but I do not agree with him when he says that this is the measure or this is the bill that this House should pass. I want to call your attention to the fact that, at the present ime, we have the necessary machinery in Pennsylvania to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. There is no need for a prohibition commission where nine additional officeholders, with salaries, are created and wherein the power is given wholly to one man to decide. Take section 6: "Any person dissatisfied with the action of any deputy commissioner in relation to the granting of refusal to grant of a permit or license may appeal from the action of such deputy commissioner to the prohibition commissioner whose action on any such appeal shall be final." One man in the entire State of Pennsylvania will be charged with the duty of enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, should such amendment be declared legal and constitutional by the courts.

Gentlemen of the House, it isn't necessary in Pennsylvania to create this Commission. We have to-day in our courts judges sitting who understand both the liquor question and the Eighteenth Amendment, and it needs, I repeat, no Commission of nine men under salaries ranging from sixty-five hundred dollars to three thousand dollars, with a positive power entrusted in one man, to settle the whole question throughout the State of Pennsylvania. I trust the members of this House, Republicans as well as Democrats, will not support this measure, because it is not necessary in Pennsylvania at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:55 o'clock A. M., having arrived, the House will at this time take up the special order set for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 972, entitled:

An Act to prohibit traffic in intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes and to provide for the manufacture and distribution of intoxicating liquor for permitted purposes only and containing certain provisions for the enforcement of such prohibition and prohibiting certain advertising and advertisements pertaining to the liquor traffic.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARTHUR R. B. FOX. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to take up the time of this body in discussing this measure. I simply rise to say that this act is for the purpose of prohibiting traffic in intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes and to provide for the manufacture and distribution of intoxicating liquors for permitted purposes. This matter has been before this body for the past several weeks. It has been thoroughly discussed and I know every man present here knows the issue. This act is for the purpose of enforcing the power granted by Article eighteen, the Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. All of you gentlemen know that forty-five of the forty-eight States in this Union have ratified this amendment known as the Prohibition Amendment, and in accordance with the proclamation of the Secretary of State, this amendment is now a part of the Constitution of this Union. I want you to understand, Mr. Speaker, that I have no ill will or any personal grievance against any man engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor, but as a true American I stand ready and am going at all times to try to uphold the Constitution of our country. I would ask you gentlemen to pass this bill.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to discuss this bill, but I want to call the attention of the members of this House to this fact in connection with this bill. This bill is based throughout its entirety upon the Prohibition Commission and Commissioners, which bill we have just defeated. Permits under this act must be issued under the act creating the Prohibition Commission of Pennsylvania. That bill we have just defeated, and I think under that condition we ought to defeat this one as well.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 3, page 6, line 8, by striking out the words "Within ten days after the passage hereof," and insert in lieu thereof the words "at expiration of the terms of the present registration commissioners."

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. ALEXANDER made a motion,

That the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole House for the purpose of special amendment.

On the question,

Will the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, this motion that the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole is merely for the purpose of taking up amendments which could have been offered long ago. These Philadelphia bills have delayed the legislative procedure of this House, and I think it but fair at the present time that we vote upon the bill as it is now constituted, and I ask that you vote this motion down.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I think it ought to be clearly understood just what these amendments are. These amendments that are offered to this bill affect the repealer portion of the bill. The bill, if it becomes a law as it is now upon the calendar, sets aside the entire registration commission of Philadelphia. These amendments are to permit, as we did last night, the Governor to appoint an additional man but leaves the same commissioners—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to appoint of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) is discussing the merits of the bill and not the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) is merely discussing the amendment ,and that is the question now before this House. The Chair therefore rules that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I have almost finished, and merely want to have the members realize just what these amendments do to the bill. They permit the present registration commissioners of Philadelphia to serve out their terms under the provisions of the bill as it is drawn, and permit the Governor to appoint an additional man. So that it is clearly understood, Mr. Speaker, what this is for, I make this statement. This is a ripper measure, and my amendments are against the ripper portion. I am personally not in favor of rippers.

On the question recurring,

Will the House resolve itself into the Committee of the Whole?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House: This motion to go into the Committee of the Whole, is, as I said in the first place, simply to consider some amendments proposed to this bill. This bill is essentially the same as the bill I introduced in the House, and there is no reason in the world for this House to go into the Committee of the Whole at this time. We should have considered the amendments—those amendments could have been considered on second reading—and I ask the House to vote this motion down.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, last night in my interrogation of the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) I did not desire to delay the business of the House, but merely to delay action until this morning. I think it is nothing more than fair that this House should treat the Philadelphia legislation as we have treated the revision legislation, and give us a square deal on this question. I distinctly asked the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) if he would object, naturally supposing that he was the administration leader of the House, and that the amendments offered would be in harmony with the Governor's wishes, knowing, as I did, his stand against rippers. I ask the House to give the Philadelphia delegation fair play.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House: I rise at this time to take exception to the term "ripper." This is not a ripper. It is within the power of the Governor of this Commonwealth to reappoint the four gentlemen who are now serving in the capacity of registration commissioners in Philadelphia, together with one more that is to be added. A ripper is generally described as a measure that rips out of office men who have been duly elected by the votes of the people. That is a ripper. This is not a ripper, because the Governor will have the power to reappoint these four gentlemen who are now occupying these places, or any other members the bill calls for. I think it well at this time, gentlemen, to ask for a little order while I explain to you.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will suspend for a moment. The Chair requests that quiet be preserved.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, there was an arrangement in the Municipal Corporations Committee at the meeting held on this bill, at which it was proposed that the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) should be given from six o'clock until half-past seven o'clock for the purpose of arranging every amendment that was to be added to this bill; and at half-past seven o'clock he was there and had his amendments there. If I understand it right, I told the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) that he was to have all his amendments prepared, and previously questioned him along that line, and he said they would be prepared. We took a vote at that time in the Committee of Municipal Corporations, and the vote was thirteen to five, or seven, not to accept those amendments. Now after passing on that, they come in with these amendments. These amendments have already been voted upon in committee, Mr. Speaker, and I think the members of the House at this time should not accept them, and I ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, the question now before the House is whether the House will go into the Committee of the Whole to consider the amendments. It is not a question of what is in the bill or anything else. These amendments are sufficiently important, coming from the source they do, as we believe, to be considered at this time. There should be no objection on the part of any member of this House to consider these amendments. They are certainly important to this bill. Therefore, let us go into the Committee as a Whole.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the Governor has sanctioned these amendments.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, the Governor did not give me the amendments.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a statement—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Brady) having exhausted his privilege allowed by the House, and having spoken on this proposition twice, unless he receives unanimous consent—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman merely rises to a question.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, not having exhausted my privilege, I have a word to say on this matter. When the Committee on Elections met to consider this bill, amendments similar to the ones offered by the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) were offered in committee, and were voted down. The purpose of these amendments is to continue the present registration commission in the City of Philadelphia beyond the next mayoralty election, and in so doing give to the dominant faction in that city the control of the election machinery of the city. We know, through the public press and other means of information, how the present registration commission in the City of Philadelphia has performed their duty, how the names of thousands of independent voters in that city have been stricken from the voting list—

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request order, and also request the members to be in their seats, and the visitors in the rear of the rail to maintain order. The Chair will enjoin upon the sergeant-at-arms to preserve order in the rear of the Hall.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, we have heard how thousands of names of independent voters have been stricken from the registration lists in the city of Philadelphia. We have heard how the names of electors who have resided for many years have been stricken off at the last moment.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point or order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the merits of the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that he has been very liberal with regard to this discussion on both sides, and has given every member opportunity to discuss the question as to whether or not the House should resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment. The amendment has been read. The Chair feels that in view of the fact that he has allowed great liberality on this side, he should not restrict discussion on the other side. The Chair, therefore, overrules the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Wells) and the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) will proceed.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, might I call your attention to the fact that the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) is not discussing the merits of these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) will proceed.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it is well known that the registration in the city of Philadelphia has been a scandal; that these names have been stricken from the lists at the last moment when it was too late to reinstate them in time for these electors to exercise their rights to vote; and I want to say here, now, that if these amendments prevail, then I would not give a pinch of your fingers for the city charter bill or for any other Philadelphia legislation that is now before this House, because if an honest election cannot be held in the city of Philadelphia, then your other bills amount to nothing, and I maintain that if the present registration board is continued in office that that is the crux of the whole situation. I say, "vote down these amendments."

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Why all this unseemly haste at this particular time? We have had these bills for a long, long time. No doubt they have caused us to remain here sometime longer than we should otherwise have done. Now why not, when we have arrived at this particular place, spend a little more time and go into the Committee of the Whole and consider these amendments? By voting to go into a Committee of the Whole you do not commit yourselves to vote for the amendments or not to vote for them. Why not play fair on this matter? We distinctly understood yesterday that the reason this bill was passed on second reading was that it would be considered to-day at this time. Now this House is not in the habit of denying any large number of men in this House the privilege of going into Committee of the Whole, and I think in justice to the men interested, that we ought to go into Committee of the Whole and pass upon these amendments fairly and in the open.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows:

Messrs. Glass, Dilsheimer, Sowers, Aron, Dunn, Clements, Cox, James A. Walker, Golder, Bennett, Franklin, Baldi, Di Lemmo, Mehring, Crawford, Colville, Drinkhouse, Millner, Levis, Wells, Rorke, Conner and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not, in the main, a vicious bill, and it is a bill that has some extremely good elements in it, but it is in one particular a bill that should not have the support of the members of this House. It is a bill, Mr. Speaker, that has not been offered in good faith. I do not mean by that a reflection upon the sponsor of the bill, because he is neither the author of the bill not is he the prime mover behind the bill. This bill, Mr. Speaker, has been bred in iniquity, it is done, it is brought into this House, being forced through this House by an unseen power that does not have the confidence of the workers in the city of Philadelphia. The city of Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, with its great citizenship, is not for this bill drawn as it is now. Thirty-one members of this House, representing a large portion of the population in Philadelphia, have expressed their disapproval of this bill in its present form. This bill is a cheat; it is a subterfuge. This bill has been introduced into the House with the thought that the great Governor of this Commonwealth can be lured into the position of being made an ally of a partisan who has not the confidence of the people of Philadelphia. It is a vain effort by that partisan. He will not manage to lure so great a man as the Governor of Pennsylvania to assist him in attempting to throttle the people of Philadelphia. Mr. Speaker, it has been said on the floor of this House, in the previous discussion, by the gentleman from Elk, who masquerades a Democrat, that thousands of names were stricken from the lists by a corrupt board in Philadelphia. That, Mr. Speaker, is a remark that is not a statement of fact. The names that were taken from the list in Philadelphia by the board were taken after the various leaders of the divisions, independent organizations, Democrat, Republican and whatever the party, appeared before the board and had a knowledge that these various names were names of people who had removed from their residences. They were taken from the lists and the Supreme Court decided that they were taken at a date too late for any claims and along that ground they were restored long after the election, but those names were not on the list.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to be interrogated at this time. When I finish, the gentleman man ask all the questions he wants to. Mr. Speaker, thus the Supreme Court decided that those names were taken at a late period. There has been no man who appeared before the board or before a court to claim that those names should remain on the list, and the people of Philadelphia do not agree with the partisan press that would attempt to strike down the good name of the men who are upon that board. These men had held public office, many of them for years, and all of them for many months. Not one word of honest criticism has been brought to their door. They have not been charged honestly with partisanship; they have not been charged with corruption, and the men who represent the minority party are men of the highest standing; men who stand high at the bar and are appreciated by the courts; men of integrity and men of force. The men who represent the majority party are men who have been there since the board was established. This bill has not been introduced into this Legislature for the purpose of bringing about any betterment of conditions. This bill has been introduced into this Legislature with the hope that there would be introduced into that board a partisanship that does not to-day exist; this bill has been introduced for the purpose of attempting to put upon that board men who would carry out the orders of an unconcealed powerful factor here, but weak at his home where he is known. Mr. Speaker, there are good elements in this bill. Those of us who are compelled by the present condition of this bill to oppose its support object to the elements in the bill that allows a board to impose inspectors to that number at the rate of five dollars a day that they might go up and down the city of Philadelphia and strike from the lists names that are supposed to be fraudulent; names there representing those who are dead and those who have removed. There are those of us who oppose this bill because the ripper feature exists, regret that we cannat stamp our approval by our vote to it, for the character of legislation that desires the legislation to be clean in Philadelphia. We want it clean; we want to have a clean registration so that we can meet our political foes honestly—honestly at the polls, and when we are cleaning our lists, when the inspectors clean the lists, they will have much to clean in certain sections that are represented by those not members of this House who are forcing this bill on the people of Philadelphia. We regret, I say, Mr. Speaker, that we cannot vote our stamp of approval to that very good and meritorious element that exists in this bill, because we have been deprived of going into the Committee of the Whole and discussing the one amendment that we wanted approved to take from the bill the ripper feature. But, Mr. Speaker, that good element that exists in the present bill is not being introduced by the sponsors of this bill for a good purpose. Their hope is to make this board a partisan board; they hope that that partisan board will appoint a partisan inspector, and they expect him to go into the sections where their political power does not exist and tear from the lists those who would vote against them. This bill might prevail in this House: it might go back to the Senate and have the concurrence of the amendment that those of us who wanted an honest registration bill stood for here and supported. The amendment that gave the additional number of a board, but it will have mighty rough sledding after that. Mr. Speaker, more than that; this bill will never give to those who are supporting it, who are masquerading as reformers; who are supporting and aiding those who in the public press they claim they are not affiliated with. It won't assist them at the coming election. The people of Philadelphia are awake to this character of legislation. The people of Philadelphia—the individual voter—the poor man who lives in the two-story house; the man who works for his wage; the man who casts his honest vote; the man who knows that those in political position in Philadelphia have seen that the streets are well paved and well lighted, that the schools are maintained and the churches are built, who worked side by side with the poor man at his knees, that is the man that knows of this legislation such as has been offered him as a subterfuge, a cheat and as it is, can never secure the support from those who are loyal Republicans, because they are Republicans, and not Republicans masquerading as Republicans and mere agents of corporate power. Those poor voters of Philadelphia stand behind us in our position on this bill. Let me say, Mr. Speaker, that the same force supported by the poor voter, the man in the two-storw home, the voter of Philadelphia, is the same voter who sent here some sessions ago the men who put the child labor bill through; the men who put through the Workmen's Compensation bill and who were standing by the workingmen. I ask you, laboring men and representatives of labor men, where was your corporate representative then, when we were fighting your fight for your Child Labor bill, for your workingmen, your injured men? He was against you then, and he is against you now. You men should stand side by side with us and stamp this power that flaunts its bossism over this great Capitol, that has the audacity to attempt to overshadow a great independent Legislature and a great governor. Let us have your aid, men, the aid of you men that we supported in sessions gone by; let us have your aid to stamp out this character of legislation is improper legislation. Let me predict that your defeat of the thirty-one or forty-one members of Philadelphia in legislation that applies only to Philadelphia, will not bring us distress. It will rally in loyalty to our sides in Philadelphia those loyal Republican supporters who believe in home rule; who believe in fair play and who will not allow a power to come to Harrisburg that has no power at home where we know that power.

Men of the House, in registering your votes remember that you register the vote for or against those of us who stood by you in every piece of your legislation. The farmer who asked for our support received it loyally from this delegation. Pittsburgh asked for our support and she received our loyal support in her home matters. The working man asked for support and he received our loyal support. This bill applies to Philadelphia; it is our Registration Board; it registers our voters; we represent the majority in Philadelphia, and we speak the voice of the people of Philadelphia. Mr. Speaker, we ask now, in the closing hours of this session that the men of this House will not allow themselves to be lead away from that which their own good logic would lead them to do. We ask you men who come from the rural districts, we ask you men who come from the second and third class cities, who come from the first class townships and from all the towns of the State to give us the support that we, the majority in Philadelphia have asked for. We ask you to oppose this bill in its present form, with this vicious element of a ripper, to rip out of office men who have done but their duty.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) says that there were not thousands taken off the list, he mistated facts. While we cannot bring the thousands here from Philadelphia, we have one material witness here in myself, whose name they struck from this list. I have lived for five years in one division, and in the the one house for forty-seven years. My father raised his family there and I raised mine. A partisan fight developed in Philadelphia. Unfortunately I happened to be among those who were opposed to the faction in power, the faction that in nearly every ward had control of the registration board. My name was among those that were taken off. I received a notice at four o'clock in the afternoon, say twenty-four hours preceding the primary election. I hastily got together my witnesses and took them down there. Among them I took the Democratic City Committeeman, who was a bare-foot boy with me, and I took two other members of the Democratic Committee. I took my sister who keeps house for me, and others, among them Magistrate Campbell—people who have enjoyed my hospitality and who have eaten at my table. When we got there, this unfair board declared that the hearings for the Twenty-fifth ward were over for that day. I took all my witnesses away and sent them home. After they had gone, and when they found out that my witnesses were away, this board, in its unfairness, gave me a hearing in my absence. One of them, Mr. Walsh, said that if he had been there he would not have stood for this action. This is the board that Mr. Scott would stand here and tell you is absolutely fair. I say to you that when they strike off the name of a man who has lived for forty-seven years in one house that this board is unfair, and I ask you gentlemen, in all fairness, to this bill and legislation of this kind, to pass this bill, and for God's sake give us a fair Registration Board in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if his main objection to this bill is the ripper feature?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, that is the objection to it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman that if this bill becomes a law and the vacancies are created, who will fill them?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, they are filled by the one who now fills them, the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Now, Mr. Speaker, in the light of the very complimentary remarks of the gentleman in referring to the very high character of the Executive of this State, I desire to ask him whether there is any doubt in his mind, if these vacancies are created as to the high character of the men that will be named by the Governor of the State to fill them?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is an absolute insult to the Governor of Pennsylvania to rip out of office a man whom he appointed but a few weeks ago—Mr. Walsh.

Shall the bill pass finally?

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. SCHILLING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, by striking out in line 3, the words "officers and employes."

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 5, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to advise you that there has been received from the office of the Secretary of State of the United States a certified copy of the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution, which would give to all citizens, irrespective of sex, the right to vote, if they are otherwise qualified. This amendment, having been submitted by the Congress of the United States, is now before the states for ratification or rejection, and the question of the action to be taken by Pennsylvania upon the subject is a matter for the General Assembly to determine.

Feeling as I do, that the ultimate adoption of the principle of government contemplated by the proposed amendment is assured, and that the cause which it represents is just and in line with the spirit of the times, I hope that prompt and favorable action will be taken and that this Commonwealth may be among the first of the states to sanction this great national reform.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 21 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 116, file folio 2385, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. POWELL,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 116, entitled

An Act for the better protection of fish, requiring citizens of the United States residing within and without this Commonwealth to procure a license to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto and regulating the issuance of such license providing penalties for the violation of this act and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the penalties recovered and license fees received

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I just wish to take your time for a few brief moments to explain to you that this is the bill known as The Fishermen's License Bill on which I am appealing to you now and asking you for your support. The reason I am doing so is for the following reasons: The Fish Code has been so amended over in the Senate that it has taken in every amendment that has been offered to the code at this session. For instance, it has been amended that it will be legal to fish with a dip net, a tight net, an outline, an eel rack, a fish basket and even a spear. Perch has been taken off the game list and has been termed as a food fish. The size limit has been taken from trout and the commission on fisheries has also agreed to the amendment that will specify what seasons these devices shall be used. Gentlemen of the House, it is absolutely necessary that the Department of Fisheries must receive funds to meet the requirements and therefore I beg of you to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

VERIFICATION OF ROLL.

Mr. ULSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1240, file folio 2889, on page 18 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. Ramsey.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1240, entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in Delaware county and fixing a penalty for violation of the act" by extending the provisions of the said act to Chester county and Montgomery county.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is special legislation for Montgomery and Chester counties. It has been on the calendar since some time away back in the ancient ages,—about February. As I view this, it is a direct slap at the Game Commission, for this reason; the Game Commission appropriates money to propogate and protect game in Pennsylvania. The hunters pay this money in the hunters' licenses, at a dollar each, to buy game and to propagate it. In Chester county, one of the counties herein named, they received in 1919, this year, one hundred and thirty-two ring-necked pheasants, two hundred and fifty pheasant eggs, ninety-eight quail, and one hundred and eighty-four rabbits. Gentlemen, it is a self-evident fact that the fox is the greatest enemy to the game that we have. If you are going to take the sportsman's money to buy game, and then allow them to spend that money to protect the foxes that eat up the game, it is surely an imposition on the Game Commission of Pennsylvania. Why should they raise this revenue to buy game and then allow the foxes to destroy it? I have a letter here from the Sportsmen's Organization at Coatesville, in which they say, "The Chester County Rod and Gun Club, with over a thousand members in the county, has taken action opposing such a bill, and the secretary has forwarded letters to Senator Eyre and the three members of the Legislature, asking them to defeat such a bill." This comes from the Coatesville Sportsmen's Organization. I have also a letter here from the Norristown Sportsmen's Organization, in which they say: "The fox is the greatest enemy of small game and game birds, as well as other birds, and the hen roost. We are opposed to any measure looking to the protection of foxes." Gentlemen, if you allow them to protect the foxes in Chester and Montgomery counties, that is only the opening wedge toward opening the door for the protection of foxes in the entire state of Pennsylvania. If it is admitted by the sportsmen of Pennsylvania that the fox is the greatest enemy of game, why open up this particular part of the program? The proposition before these people is the fox hunt. These are organizations composed of people who have money. The rich people of these counties,—down in Delaware, Philadelphia, Chester and Montgomery,—get together for the purpose of fox hunting. Why should the Legislature of Pennsylvania say to them, "We will protect the foxes for you to the detriment of the game in Pennsylvania, for the purposes of your own personal privilege and enjoyment of a little fox hunt?" Two years ago we had letters from farmers in that section of the state saying that the foxes destroyed the chickens, ate up the game, and now we are asked again to pass this same bill. It was defeated that time, and it was defeated two years previous to that. You require our sportsman to take out a license and pay one dollar into this fund, to be used for the protection of game. Now don't let us spend our money to protect the foxes which destroy the game. If the people in these counties do not want any game, if they wish to be in a class by themselves, if they say they do not want any more game, we should not throw open the door in the entire state of Pennsylvania for the protection of the foxes. This money is paid in to protect and propagate game, so do not let us use the fund for the protection of the fox, when it is admitted that it destroys game. I would ask you, gentlemen, to vote this bill down.

Mr. HOLLINGSWORTH. Mr. Speaker, this bill only affects Chester and Delaware Counties, and while there is truth in what Mr. Phillips has to say, it seems to me that this is the only thing that the fox hunters have asked of us this session. There are a great many Philadelphians come out into Chester and Delaware Counties and buy land and improve the country, naturally raising the price of land in the neighborhood. I cannot see that it is wrong to vote for this bill. We people that come from Chester County have had communications from both the game people and from the people who fox hunt, and under these conditions I do not feel we are on duty bound to favor the game people any more than the persons who have asked this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire, at this time, whether this bill which is now up for consideration, has been advertised in the city of Philadelphia previous to its introduction into this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the information of the gentleman that this is not a special bill and it is not necessary that it be advertised.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, by reason of this is, the bill being special local legislation and not having been advertised as required under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article III, Section 8, in which it states:

"No local or special bill shall be passed unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be effected may be situated, which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the General Assembly of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law; the evidence of such notice having been published, shall be exhibited in the General Assembly before such act shall be passed."

Therefore, I declare this act to be unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair overrules the point of order made by the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Marcus).

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill as it is now presented to the House meets with the approval of those of us who are supporting the legislation of the Governor of Pennsylvania. We look upon this bill, Mr. Speaker, as it is now amended, as being legislation that is indeed beneficial to the City of Philadelphia. Under the terms of this bill, as it now exists, the City of Philadelphia in a few more months will be governed by a single small body of councilmen, possibly to a number of twenty-one. Mr. Speaker, the result of that will be that we will have a council of men who will be compensated for their work—who will be paid a salary of $5,000 a year and who will become experts in municipal affairs. They will be a small body of men and they will have centered on them the responsibility of this great office of being managers of a municipality of the size of Philadelphia. When there is centralized in a small body of men such responsibilities, those responsibilities soon bring to the service the best merit that exists in the holders of the office. That has been shown, Mr. Speaker, in the city of Philadelphia in a reform piece of legislation that was passed in 1911, known as the Viewers' Act. The city of Philadelphia had had the old road-viewers' system where men were brought from the body of the citizenship to assess damages for land condemned by corporations and by the municipality. There was no centralized responsibility; there was no development of experts, and the result was, that in the city of Philadelphia we were attended by great scandal, and, therefore, a reform bill was introduced in this House and supported by those of us who tonight now support this measure. A bill was passed that has established a permanent body of viewers. These men became experts: these men had imposed upon them the great responsibility of spending millions of dollars of the city's money. The result was, that these men assumed their great responsibility and scandal disappeared from Philadelphia. The reform measure will never be left by those of us in Philadelphia who worked for it and, Mr. Speaker, I predict that this bill tonight making the council of Philadelphia a small body, a body of men who by their fitness will be elevated to this office by their fitness make them experts upon municipal matters, who became managers of great municipal corporations, that Philadelphia will never step back from that character of legislation and, therefore, Mr. Speaker, those of us who support loyally and faithfully and honestly without ulterior motive, this present administration back this bill as it now stands cleansed of its hidden claws. When this bill, Mr. Speaker, came to this House it was not for the purpose of having a governing body of twenty-one men who would give to the city of Philadelphia an honest government; it was not for the purpose of giving a council of twenty-one; it was not for the purpose of making a counsel of experts. This bill, with its good merits, was but a cloak to hide the means that was concealed in the bill to deprive those in political power in Philadelphia of their power; to give to those in Philadelphia who were without power a power that they could not earn by the votes of the people. This bill has been cleansed of these items and you men who are active in politics, you men who have worked at the polls, you men who have earned your positions as leaders of men in your community, hearken to what was hidden in this bill unknown to many of you and which has been lopped out by the honest Governor and by the honest, intelligent Attorney General who have left this bill an honest bill that we can vote for honestly without having the blush of shame on our face now or in the future. These are the hidden things in the bill: It took the man who held this position in the tax office, who is a division leader, who is a leader among his fellowmen in his community, who has earned his position as a leader because he had leadership born in him.—it took from him his rights to be active in politics. It said to the man who works in the tax office, the man who works in the controllers office, the man who works in the treasurer's office, that if he would make himself active even to the extent of soliciting a vote of his neighbor that he could be sentenced to prison for a period of two years. It did more. In this bill was concealed the item that the man in that office, who is today free from civil service, would immediately be cast into civil service. It did more than that.

They were not satisfied to take that man out of his political activity; they were not satisfied to make him powerless as a political man; they made him a criminal if he would be active. But they did more than that. They said in this bill that that man could not contribute one dollar to his political party, either voluntarily or involuntarily. If he would give directly or indirectly one dollar towards the Republican party that he was a member of, he became a criminal and was sentenced for two years in the county prison. It was done for the purpose of making that man impotent as a political leader, prohibiting him from contributing a penny. It did more than that. This bill that was the bill of the reformer, this bill that was supposed to be moulded by those who did not know much about politics, the simple-minded, pure, lily-white devils who are hidden behind the cloak of a man who is afraid to show himself openly as being the sponsor of the bill, they had sufficient cunning and sufficient knowledge not only to take from the political worker in the tax office his right to work politically, his right to contribute politically; but they said that within a period of one year —they had a mandatory clause in—the man who resigns or who would be removed because of political purpose had to be restored and reinstated back into his position in those offices in a period of one year and take the place of the man who holds the office today, whether he was good or whether he was bad. If he simply had been eliminated from his office, if he had resigned voluntarily from his office, this bill as it was brought here by those who have no other thought than to bring good government to Philadelphia and a little notoriety to themselves, these lily-white, pure reformers had concealed in that bill the means of making impotent the worker, stopping him from contributing, ejecting him from his position and putting one of the other side in that position. But, Mr. Speaker, the bill has been cleansed of such subterfuge; it has been cleansed of such pretense; it has been stripped of that which is a fraud within its covers and it stands now a bill to give the city of Philadelphia an honest form of government. It has been stripped of more: It has been stripped of the great extravagance that these members of the committee had encased it with. Mr. Speaker, in 1911 we took the word of these same lily-white reformers and passed for them a bill called the Municipal Court for the City of Philadelphia. They told us it would be a court to collect the small debts of the small storekeeper; they told us it was a court that would save the poor man from having his pocket picked by the delays of litigation; they told us that it would cost one hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Speaker, today they have their reform Municipal Court in Philadelphia. They have the court that was to cost one hundred thousand dollars; they have the court that was to save the pocketbook of the poor man. They have a court that cost the city of Philadelphia one million five hundred thousand dollars to maintain; they have a court that is but the catchbasin of every broken down fellow in politics who has lost his position for good cause or not, and who happens to be with the faction that cloaks behind the reputation of these reformers. It is a catch-basin that holds these office-holders, concealed unknown to the taxpayers. Mandamus after mandamus is passed; the taxpayers are robbed a million and a half dollars to sustain this reform court that the same men, who offered this bill as it came in its polluted form in this House a few weeks or few months ago, sponsored for and stood for, and led us to support much to the regret of the taxpayers of Philadelphia.

But, Mr. Speaker, a great Governor, with vast years of experience in these legislative halls, flanked by an Attorney General who has won his spurs in courts of all degrees, stipped this bill of any of the subterfuge, stripped this bill of any of the cheat, stripped this bill of any of the fraud, stripped this bill of any possibility of making it the "catch basin" of any political faction, and the bill stands to-day, Mr. Speaker, a bill that those of us who are here—thirty-one men from Philadelphia of the forty-one—can prondly support as a measure that will be a monument to Governor Sproul, a monument to Attorney General Schaffer, a bill that we can all be proud of supporting. We can go back to our homes and to our constituents and say that we stood in Harrisburg and fought with the administration to tear from the bill all fraud and bring back to Philadelphia an honest piece of legislation that will give to Philadelphia an honest form of government, a piece of legislation of which we can all be proud. Mr. Speaker, I vote for this bill, not because it was sponsored by the men who cheated us a few years ago; I vote for this bill because it has upon it the stamp of this present administration, and we stand loyally behind that administration on this measure and on any other measure that is sponsored by and stamped with the approval of the present Governor of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Dilsheimer, Marcus.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 854, file folio 5241, on page 23 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 854, entitled

An Act to amend article fourteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford (Mr. Edgar R. Smith) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if this is intended as an amendment to the Act of 1911, known as the "School Code?"

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if this bill provides for anything that is not already covered in substance in the School Code.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it provides for attendance officers.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what are the provisions in the School Code relative to truant officers.

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it provides for local officers.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if this bill will eliminate any of the truant officers?

Mr. EDGAR R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it will not.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, the bill which we now have up for discussion at this time is generally known on the floor of the House as "The County Truant Officer Bill" or the "County Attendance Officer Bill." This bill provides for the appointment by a court of common pleas in the various counties having school districts of the third and fourth classes a county truant officer. It also provides that he shall receive a salary of not less than one hundred dollars a month for eight months in a year, and also prescribes his duties. Mr. Speaker, I am not only in favor of but am willing to use my best efforts to secure the passage of any legislation which will tend in any way toward bringing the public school system of our State to the highest point of efficiency, but before we pass any legislation under the guise of school legislation, we should satisfy ourselves that it is not a mere subterfuge for the purpose of tearing down our school system, and especially in a bill of this kind which carries with it a salary which will create a big burden of taxation upon our people. Mr. Speaker, to my mind this bill does not accomplish anything that is not already provided for in the school code. The school code of 1911, in section 101, provides for the classification of the school districts of our Commonwealth and divides them into four classes. Sections 102, 103, 104, and 105 define the respective classes. The classes are classified according to population. Section 1414 provides for the attendance of pupils and makes it imperative that all pupils between the ages of eight and sixteen shall attend a school. Section 1432—gentlemen, I wish to read it to you just as it is in the Act of Assembly—section 1432 provides as follows:—I wish before reading this to call your attention to the fact that this provides for the necessary truant officers in the county—it provides that "The Board of Directors of school districts in this Commonwealth, of the first, second and third class shall and in any school district of the fourth class may employ one or more persons to be known as attendance officers whose duties shall be to enforce the provision of this act regarding compulsory attendance." It provides further the duties of the truant officer as follows: "Such attendance officers shall, in addition to the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this act, have full police power without warrant, and may arrest or apprehend any child who fails to attend school in compliance with the provisions of this act, or who is incorrigible, insubordinate, or disorderly during attendance at school or on his way to and from school. Mr. Speaker, I trust the members are hearing what I am saying, because to my mind this is an exceedingly important bill. It affects every county in this Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request the members to give more attention to the gentleman now speaking; and must insist that the visitors remain quiet while on the floor of the House. Visitors are here by the grace of the House. Under the rules, they are excluded from the floor; and if they insist on continuing to disturb the House, the Chair will be obliged to enforce the rule and have them removed. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the section I have just read, section 1432 of the school code, provides that districts of the first, second and third class shall appoint truant officers. That takes in all the small districts of the State, the small outlying districts, the small boroughs and villages. The game section provides that fourth class districts may appoint truant officers. It does not put the burden upon these latter districts unless it is actually necessary. As a matter of fact, there are small districts wherein it is not necessary for the school districts wherein it is not necessary for the school district to incur the burden and expense of paying a truant officer, who has little or nothing to do. Gentlemen, I call your attention to the fact that all districts are taken care of in this section of the school code of 1911. The bill which we are considering at this time provides for the appointment of a county truant officer, who has an office in the county seat, and is paid by the county a salary of not less than one hundred dollars a month, and his duty is to simply supervise the work of the local truant officers throughout the county. I say this act does not accomplish anything not already provided by the school code, for the reason that the work must be done by the district truant officers.

In the second place, gentlemen, I am opposed to the bill because it creates additional expense. You will note that the bill provides a salary of not less than one hundred dollars a month for eight months. It also provides for all expenses connected with the office. I wish to call your attention especially to the last clause of this bill. It reads as follows: "all else that he may require for the necessary performance of his duties." There is no limit to it, gentlemen; he may require a five thousand dollar desk so far as the bill is concerned, and there is no limit to it. This may be an extreme case, but it is an illustration of the unbounded limits of this bill so far as the expense to the county is concerned. It has been estimated that if this bill becomes a law it will cost the counties on the average of from two to three thousand dollars a year, or between one hundred and fifty thousand and one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars throughout the State, and all he has to do is to sit down in the county seat and take the various reports from the district attendance officer throughout the county.

In the third place, I am opposed to this bill because it is impracticable in so far as a working proposition is concerned. In some of our counties we have small districts outlying ten, twelve or fifteen miles from the county seat. These come under the fourth class districts. The school code provides that in those districts the boards may appoint truant officers if they need them. Under this bill, even if they do not need one, they must appoint a county attendance officer, because the county will have officers located in the county seat fifteen or twenty miles away. He will have nothing to do towards compelling the children to attending school. His duty is to take the reports from the local officers, and merely supervise them. I am in favor of any bill that will help to enforce the school code; but it is wrong to impose this burden upon our citizens, if we cannot show that we are creating an office which will contribute something to the betterment to the conditions at home.

For these reasons, gentlemen, I think it is a mistake to pass this bill, and I hope the House will vote it down.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) has stated, if our various school districts have need for attendance officers, we consider our school boards competent to handle the matter of attendance, and we would ask the members of this House not to saddle upon the counties what we consider to be a useless and unnecessary appendage to the school code.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I am very emphatically in favor of the passage of this bill, and in answer to the gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) concerning the cost, let me assure, you, gentlemen, that if this bill would accomplish the end for which it is intended, it would be cheap at five hundred thousand dollars. Let me show you, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that today the lack of enforcement of the attendance laws of the State of Pennsylvania constitutes the real weakness in our educational system. We to-day are thirtieth among the forty-eight States of the Union in average attendance. Why should we not be first? The State of this Union that is first in its educational system is the State of Massachusetts, which is second in average attendance in the Union. It is true, as the gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) says, that at the present time the fourth-class districts may have attendance officers. Please note, gentlemen of the House, that the school code does not compel the fourth-class districts—and, by the way, the fourth-class school districts with respect to the school system are what the common people are in the world, and there are very many of them; there are 2,384 out of a total of 2,586 in the State of Pennsylvania. Now, in those 2,384 districts they may have district attendance officers, and then again they may not. How many do you suppose that there are of those 2,384 fourth-class districts that have attendance officers? I went to a little trouble in connection with this bill; I have no selfish purpose in favoring it; but I went to a little trouble to get information. I hold here in my hand a resume of letters of twenty county superintendents in the sixty-seven counties in the State. Let me say to you it is only twenty, and I simply took the list of counties at random. What is the result? Let me show you this, gentlemen. The superintendents of the State of Pennsylvania, almost without exception, are in favor of the passage of this bill. They recognize that the lack of attendance of pupils in the country districts is so extremely serious that it is really breaking down the affectiveness and the efficiency of the school system of the State of Pennsylvania. You would be interested to know and you can find it by referring to the files in the Department of Public Instruction. The records are absolutely appalling. I looked at a few of them the other night. I can go over them, and I assure you that in many instances they were absolutely so low in attendance as to be shameful.

Now, gentlemen, this is not going to result in waste in the State of Pennsylvania because of the fact that we compel these children to attend school at the cost of even many millions. Let me show you this, gentlemen. You do not call a school efficient in any community unless that school reaches out and obtains the maximum number of pupils in that neighborhood, has a fine school building, capable teachers teachers and pupils who are successfully taught, and has an average attendance of twenty out of a total of forty. Now this bill is for the purpose of increasing the attendance, the average attendance, in all the schools, as well as in the third-class districts. Let me call your attention to one of many contentions of the gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall). If in the State of Pennsylvania it did cost two thousand dollars in every one of the counties, it would not be waste, even at a total of one hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars for the entire State. Now, gentlemen, it is not necessary to have attendance officers under the present law. The school code does not require that we have attendance officers in the fourth-class districts; consequently, the result would be the attendance officers would be in charge of all those districts. Let me read you something from the twenty counties from which I have heard. Dauphin County: the superintendent of Dauphin County reports that the attendance law is not enforced; he says the plan is fine. Crawford County: the superintendent says it is not enforced; he says it would help; he says the constable might help at times. Adams County: the superintendent reports that the system is the best. Mercer County: the superintendent reports in favor of it.

Erie County says that it is not in force. York County is in favor of it; Cambria County not enforced; Jefferson, Washington, Potter, Chester, Somerset, Northampton, Butler and Beaver counties—now then, the superintendent of schools of Beaver County, for instance, is one of the most ardent advocates of this bill in this House, and he is in personal touch with the various needs for the enforcement of county attendance in the County of Beaver. I am going to give you the other side of it. I had four doubtful replies: One from Tioga, my friend, Mr. Williams is the representative from Tioga and the superintendent of the Tioga schools says that they only have five fourth-class districts in which they have county attendance officers. Yet, he is not in favor of this bill and evidently they are not very strong for county attendance in Tioga. In Lancaster County, they have a superintendent that it is enforced only in part, but he is doubtful concerning the effectiveness of this law. In Westmoreland County, my colleague, Mr. Whiteman, reports that there is a county superintendent there whom I will frankly admit is opposed to the passage of this bill. He says there are in all the townships where they have attendance officers and that towns there enforce the attendance laws and gets credit in the State for being the only county in Pennsylvania that enforces the laws properly. The superintendent of Bradford County reports that they have all four districts and have attendance officers and they are well supported. Supposing, for instance, that in many of the fourth-class districts they find it possible to get along without an attendance officer and they have county officers do the work. What would be the result? The cost is $134,000 for county attendance officers, which was the highest according to the statement made by the gentleman from Beaver, whereas, if every township had chosen an attendance officer as we say by law now they shall receive five dollars a day, then it would cost $100 if they could not effectively enforce the law properly and that would mean a total of $250,000. If anything is worth while in Pennsylvania, it is to get rid of the great defect in the attendance laws of the State. This law would lead to several results. As I showed you, it would promote efficiency and cut the waste. Why offer the privilege and the chance to children to go to school and then not have them attend? It is waste, and it would promote ignorance. I have heard it said that ignorance is expensive at any cost. Men, don't you want to breed Americans? Gentlemen, do you want to do anything that will compel a foreign child—a foreign-speaking child—to go to school; then favor this bill. There is nothing that so breaks down the respect of the people of this country as a government which does not have the respect of law and which does lack enforcement of law. The result of it is, that it breeds anarchy. Gentlemen, the argument is endless in favor of this bill, but I ask you to vote for it in order that the State of Pennsylvania in average attendance may be, under the new superintendent of public instruction of the State of Pennsylvania, who soon takes charge, first instead of third.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pas finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gntleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Gans) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GANS. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker. This bill which is a departmental bill merely extends the powers granted in the act of 1915 in order to cover all contagious diseases.

The act of 1915 specifies certain contagious diseases.

Since that time this State has been subject to a considerable number of epidemics, culminating last fall in the epidemic of influenza with which the department battled under very unpleasant and unsatisfactory conditions.

This bill gives to the Commissioner of Health a means of combatting and controlling venereal diseases. It takes the place of the more drastic measures introduced by the Federal authorities and is based in this respect upon common sense without compelling the Commissioner to resort to spectacular raids and at the same time does not impair the personal liberty of unfortunates.

The bill in question permits the Commissioner of Health with the sanction of the various boards to determine; first, what are contagious diseases, secondly, how to handle them; thirdly, how to cure them.

The bill is in no way a radical one in existing status but simply clarifies and smooths out some of the rough spots in the Act of 1915. It is the result of the thought of the Commissioner of Health concerning rational needs of the department put into form by the Attorney General.

I desire to state further that the objectionable features have been eliminated, particularly the features that were objected to by the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Alexander).

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the statement is satisfactory.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
